

Milan (Italy), 8 July 2010

Dear Student,

I would like to bring to your attention an important opportunity dedicated to the best students of the universities of Milan: the Collegio di Milano.

The Collegio di Milano is an original institution devoted to education, set within a campus of anglo-saxon flavour. Started as a joint project of the seven universities of Milan and the local public institutions, the Collegio is supported by a group of important private companies and received a recognition of excellence from the Ministry of Education, University and Research.

In June 2010 the Conservatorio di Milano and the Collegio di Milano signed an agreement that allows the students of the Conservatorio to apply to the Collegio.

The Collegio offers an educational deal, according to which its students, beside their own academic studies, engage themselves in an evening educational programme, aimed at widening their knowledge and improving their personal skills.

The Collegio di Milano offers to the best and highly motivated students of Milan the possibility of being part of a lively and vibrant community, the strong points of which are:

- Life in a multicultural community in an interdisciplinary context, where different cultures, languages and habits meet and mix.
- A Cultural Programme, consisting of multidisciplinary teaching activities (courses, seminars, forum on current affairs and conferences), laboratories (arts, music, creative writing, photography, theatre, etc.), project work, research groups, thematic evenings, etc.
- Tutorship, academic advice and career counselling are also included in the offer.
- A modern campus with all relevant services and facilities, set in a wide green park.

The fee is € 750 per month (including meals, accommodation in single rooms, language courses, gym, internet connection, cleaning service and all the services listed in the Announcement of Selection).

The selection process for the academic year 2010-2011 is now open. An annual grant of € 4,000, reserved to the students of the Conservatorio, is also available.

Therefore, in case you are interested, I would suggest to carefully read the Announcement of Selection specifically reserved to the Conservatorio or to contact the Admissions Office:
